INTRODUCTION

Sanctuary for Families provides legal, counseling, shelter, and economic empowerment services to survivors of domestic violence, sex trafficking and related forms of gender-based violence in New York. Sanctuary is the largest provider in the U.S. of legal services for this population. Each year, nearly 1,000 pro bono attorneys from New York City law firms partner with Sanctuary attorneys to offer victims of gender-based violence comprehensive legal advice and representation in a variety of matters.

Sanctuary's family law staff at all five Family Justice Centers in New York City provides survivors of gender-based violence with legal advice, pro se assistance and representation in family law matters including paternity, child and spousal support so that they can achieve independence and permanent freedom from violence.

This Training Manual focuses specifically on training pro bono attorneys to provide pro se assistance as well as represent victims of gender-based violence in obtaining, retaining, and enforcing child and spousal support orders. Ideally, this Training Manual should be used in conjunction with a live or recorded Sanctuary training on child and spousal support.

CHILD SUPPORT BASICS

In New York, parents have a duty to support their children who are under the age of 21. Thus, if your client is the custodial parent of a child under the age of 21, they can file a petition for child support for that child unless they receive public benefits in the form of cash assistance. If your client is receiving cash assistance (a/k/a “temporary assistance”, a/k/a “public assistance”), they have assigned the right to seek child support to the Commissioner of Social Services.<sup>1</sup> The Commissioner of Social Services will initiate the case and the custodial parent will receive a pass-through amount established by law.<sup>2</sup> Sanctuary will not refer to you a client who is precluded from filing for child support on their own behalf. If during the course of your representation your client expresses an interest in applying for public benefits or states that they have applied for public benefits, please contact your Sanctuary supervising attorney to discuss.

Child support is governed by Article 4 of the New York Family Court Act if the case is in Family Court, or Article 13 of the New York Domestic Relations Law if the case is in Supreme Court.

Where to File

Unless there is a pending divorce action, you should file the child support case in Family Court in the county where the client resides, or the county in which the opposing party resides if your client does not want that person to know in what county they reside, which may be the case if your client is in hiding and/or in a confidential domestic violence shelter. If there is a pending divorce case, child support will be determined as part of the divorce proceedings in Supreme Court unless there is a prior order from the Family Court.

<sup>1</sup> Note that this is not the case for clients who are receiving assistance from the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (“SNAP,” a/k/a food stamps). Clients may be on SNAP and still file a child support petition.

<sup>2</sup> In New York City, the custodial parent receives up to $100 per month of the child support paid by the non-custodial parent to the Human Resources Administration (“HRA”), NYC’s social services department, by the non-custodial parent for one child and a maximum of $200 per month in child support for the household if there is more than one child that is subject to a child support order. Any amounts payable and collected above the designated “pass through” amount are collected by HRA to offset public assistance paid by the government to the custodial parent.

Establishing Paternity

A petitioner who is filing a support petition against the father of the child must prove the child's paternity first before child support can be awarded. Paternity is presumed if the child was born while the parties were married, or if the father signed an acknowledgement of paternity. If either of these circumstances exists, you should state so in the petition. (See Sample Petition for Child and Spousal Support, attached as Exhibit A). If neither exists, you need to file a Petition for Paternity, which includes in the relief requested that if paternity is established, an order of child support should also be entered. (See Sample Petition for Paternity, attached as Exhibit B).

Base Child Support Amount

In cases where both parties' incomes can be determined by the court, the base amount of child support is determined pursuant to a formula set forth in New York's Child Support Standards Act ("CSSA"), codified in Section 413 of the Family Court Act and 240 of the Domestic Relations Law.

Pursuant to the CSSA, income is defined as the adjusted gross income of each party, which consists of the total gross income minus certain deductions set by statute.<sup>3</sup> Standard deductions include FICA (Social Security and Medicare) and Yonkers or New York City taxes actually paid. This amount is determined by looking at the last full year's W-2 forms. Additional compensation not reflected on W-2 forms may also be included to determine the appropriate amount of income upon which the calculation of the base amount of child support will be made. Imputation of income could also increase the amount of income used to calculate the base amount of child support, and is discussed at greater length later in this manual. If the payor of child support already has an order of child support for children other than the children who are the subjects of your client's child support proceeding, the child support paid under that prior support order will be deducted from the payor's income that is available for calculation of child support in your client's case.

Example 1. Calculating Annual Income for Purposes of Child Support
	Custodial Parent	Non-Custodial Parent
Gross income from salary/wages	$25,000	$50,000
Other income	$0	$12,000 (rental property)
TOTAL INCOME	$25,000	$62,000
DEDUCTIONS
Social security taxes	($1,550)	($4,470)
Medicare taxes	($360)	($1,000)
NYC tax	($400)	($1,200)
Child support paid for a non-subject child	($0)	($6,000)
CSSA INCOME	$22,690	$49,330

The court then takes the combined adjusted gross income of both parties up to a cap of $163,000 (the income cap is adjusted periodically according to changes in the consumer price index)<sup>4</sup> and multiplies it by the percentage that corresponds to the number of children who are the subject of the support case—17% for 1 child, 25% for 2 children, 29% for 3 children, 31% for 4 children, or 35% (minimum) for 5 or more children.<sup>5</sup> This gives you the annual combined child support obligation.

Example 2. Calculating the Combined Child Support Obligation
One Child	Combined CSSA Income from Example 1 x 17% $12,243 ($72,020 x 17%)
Two Children	Combined CSSA Income from Example 1 x 25% $18,005 ($72,020 x 25%)
Three Children	Combined CSSA Income from Example 1 x 29% $20,886 ($72,020 x 29%)
Four Children	Combined CSSA Income from Example 1 x 31% $22,326 ($72,020 x 31%)
Five Children	Combined CSSA Income from Example 1 x 35% $25,207 ($72,020 x 35%)

After that, you determine each party's pro rata share by determining what percentage of the full combined total income is made up by each party's income. Once you have these percentages, you multiply the combined child support obligation by the payor's pro rata share to get the payor's annual child support obligation. The child support can be payable weekly, biweekly, semi-monthly, or monthly depending upon the pay cycle of the payor.

Example 3. Calculating the Base Child Support Amount for One Child
Combined parental income from Example 1 = $72,020 ($22,690 + $49,330)
Custodial parent's pro rata share = 32% ($22,690 / $72,020)
Non-custodial parent's pro rata share 68% ($46,330 / $72,020)
Total annual child support amount for one child = $12,243 ($72,020 x 17%)
Non-custodial parent's annual base child support amount = $8,325 ($12,243 x 68%) per year

The court will then determine whether there is income above the $163,000 combined income cap and, if so, will use its discretion to determine what amount of child support should be paid out of income above the cap.

In cases in which the payor's yearly income is low, the Self Support Reserve may be imposed to ensure that the child support obligation does not impoverish the payor<sup>6</sup>. The Self-Support reserve is 135% of the official federal poverty level for a single person household as promulgated by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and modified according to the consumer price index on April 1 of each year. The 2019 self-support reserve is $16,862.<sup>7</sup> If the payor's adjusted gross income is less than the self-support reserve amount, the minimum child support of $300 per year ($25 per month) will be imposed and any support arrears will be capped at $500. If the payor's income is slightly higher than the self-support reserve amount but the applicable percentage of child support would cause the payor to fall below the self-support reserve, the child support imposed may be $600 per year ($50 per month). The Child Support Standards Act Chart shows the correct presumptive child support amounts based upon income. (See CSSA Chart, attached as Exhibit C).

A Child Support Worksheet can take you through the calculations for determining the presumptive amount of child support pursuant to the formula. (See Child Support Worksheet, attached as Exhibit D).

Deviation from the Base Child Support Amount

The support amount calculated pursuant to the CSSA is presumed to be the correct amount of child support. However, courts are permitted to consider arguments from both parties regarding whether the final child support award should be more or less than the presumptive child support amount as calculated. But courts may only deviate from the presumptive child support amount if they find that the non-custodial parent's pro rata share of the presumptive support amount “is unjust or inappropriate.”<sup>8</sup> The court may consider the following factors when determining whether the presumptive support amount is unjust or inappropriate:

- The financial resources of the custodial parent, non-custodial parents, and the child;
- The physical and emotional health of the child and his/her special needs and aptitudes;
- The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the household not been dissolved;
- The tax consequences to the parties;
- The non-monetary contributions that the parents will make toward the care and well-being of the child;
- The educational needs of either parent;
- A determination that the gross income of one parent is substantially less than the other parent’s gross income;
- The needs of the other children of the non-custodial parent for whom the non-custodial parent is providing support and whose support has not been deducted from income pursuant to FCA §413(1)(b)(5)(vii)(D) (the provision requiring that other child support order be deducted from income), as well as the financial resources of any other person obligated to support such children, provided, however, that this factor may apply only if the resources available to support such children are less than the resources available to support the children who are subject to the instant action;
- Provided that the child is not on public assistance (i) extraordinary expenses incurred by the non-custodial parent in exercising visitation, or (ii) expenses incurred by the non-custodial parent in extended visitation provided that the custodial parent's expenses are substantially reduced as a result thereof; and
- Any other factors the court determines are relevant.<sup>9</sup>

Note that in cases where the Respondent is unrepresented the Support Magistrate will generally provide Respondent with some leeway and presume that they are seeking a deviation pursuant to FCA § 413(1)(f) if the Respondent simply says that they cannot afford the presumptive child support amount or that they think the presumptive child support amount is too high (or says something similar). Be prepared to argue against this request (commonly made) for a downward deviation by using the factors in FCA §413(1)(f) and by pointing out that Respondent has not provided evidence showing that the presumptive amount is “unjust or inappropriate.”

Child Support Add-ons

Parties are also entitled to seek certain “add-on” expenses, established by statute. Some add-on expenses are considered “mandatory” and others are “discretionary.” Add-on expenses are expenses that the parties will divide, usually in proportion to their respective incomes (pro rata shares). They are payable in addition to the base amount of child support determined according to the calculations described previously.

Mandatory add-ons are supposed to be ordered for child care expenses incurred while the custodial parent is working, attending school, or actively seeking employment and for unreimbursed medical expenses of the children (medical costs, pharmaceuticals, etc. that are not covered by insurance). The custodial parent must be able to document the expenses in order to seek reimbursement from the non-custodial parent for a pro rata share of these costs.

Discretionary add-ons typically include educational expenses such as school tuition and tutoring. As these add-ons are in the discretion of the court, the court will take into account the ability of the parties to afford these expenses and whether there was a history of having paid for them prior to the parties’ separation.

Imputation of Income

In many cases litigated by Sanctuary for Families, the payor’s income is difficult to determine. Many perpetrators of domestic violence have spent years hiding their true income from their partner and, often, from the government by filing dishonest tax returns. It can be particularly challenging to determine income when a party is self-employed, owns a small business, or makes tips.

In such cases, you may need to argue to the court that a certain amount of income should be imputed to the payor based upon the payor’s monthly expenses, lifestyle, assets, and previous work history. An evidentiary hearing is generally required for the court to make a determination regarding the payor’s imputed income. Once the court imputes an income amount to the payor, the CSSA calculation can be applied to that income in order to determine the presumptive amount of base child support.

Needs-Based Orders

In some cases, the court has insufficient information to be able to determine the actual or imputed income of the payor. This could happen as a result of the payor's default in appearance before the court or the payor's failure to produce required financial disclosure. In these circumstances FCA § 413(1)(k) provides that

[W]hen a party has defaulted and/or the court is otherwise presented with insufficient evidence to determine gross income, the court shall order child support based upon the needs or standard of living of the child, whichever is greater. Such order may be retroactively modified upward, without a showing of change in circumstances.<sup>10</sup>

An evidentiary hearing is generally required for the court to make a determination about the needs or standard of living of the children.

Taxability

Child support is not tax deductible to the payor or taxable to the payee.

Gifts/Items Purchased

Clothing, diapers, and other things received from a noncustodial parent for the child are considered gifts. They do not count as payment for child support, even though some non-custodial parents will try to argue that these should be counted towards support payments.

<sup>10</sup> Note that this statutory language is also in DRL §240(1-b)(k) for Supreme Court actions (divorces) in which child support is sought.

SPOUSAL SUPPORT BASICS

The obligation to financially support a spouse or former spouse has evolved significantly in New York State's laws. Societal changes have led to developments in the underlying theory of the legal doctrine governing this aspect of family law. New York started out with traditional permanent alimony, payable only by a husband to a wife after divorce. The amount was based on what the court believed was necessary for the wife to survive and was payable until the wife remarried or until her death. In the early 1980s, when New York reformed its divorce laws, alimony gave way to rehabilitative maintenance, which was time-limited and based on the theory that a spouse who has sacrificed her career for her marriage would need some support while she worked toward self-sufficiency.

Prior to 2016, the Family Court Act, Section 412 simply stated that spouses have an obligation to support one another. There was no guidance regarding how the amount of spousal support should be determined. The Domestic Relations Law, Section 236B(6) had a factor test for judges to apply to determine the amount and duration of maintenance to award. The amount and duration were still highly discretionary and there was no way to predict what would be awarded to the dependent spouse. The latest round of family law reform in this area began in the 2000s and was based upon Economic Partnership Theory, which is rooted in the idea of marriage as a partnership in which spouses make decisions jointly based on the assumption of a continuing relationship and that when the partnership ends, the burdens and benefits of marital decisions that have placed spouses in different economic positions are shared.

Reforms started with establishing a formula for determining the presumptive amount of temporary maintenance in a matrimonial action, a law that came into force in 2010. Then, the legislature modified and expanded the formula to cover spousal support actions in Family Court as well as final determinations of maintenance in divorce actions. The changes to the Family Court Act and Domestic Relations Law came into force for all matters filed after January 25, 2016.

The current law provides a formula for determining the presumptive amount of spousal support or maintenance with deviation factors that can be applied if the result is deemed by the court to be unjust or inappropriate. There are two different formulas depending upon whether the payor will also be required to pay child support to the same payee. The income amount used for spousal support and maintenance calculations is the same as the adjusted gross income (plus any imputed income) used for child support determinations. The formula cap is $184,000 of the payor's income.

Formula when the payor will also be paying child support

1. Multiply Payor's Income by 20%.
2. Multiply Payee's Income by 25%.
3. Subtract Line 2 from Line 1 = Result 1
4. Subtract Payor's Income from 40% of Combined Income* = Result 2.
5. Enter the lower of Result 2 or Result 1, but if less than or equal to zero, enter zero.

* Combined Income equals Payor's Income up to $184,000 plus Payee's Income.

THIS IS THE GUIDELINE AMOUNT OF MAINTENANCE.

Formula when the payor will not be paying child support

1. Multiply Payor's Income by 30%
2. Multiply Payee's Income by 20%
3. Subtract Line 2 from Line 1 = Result 1
4. Subtract Payee's Income from 40% of Combined Income* = Result 2
5. Enter the lower of Result 2 or Result 1, but if less than or equal to zero, enter zero.

* Combined Income equals Payor's Income up to $184,000 plus Payee's Income.

THIS IS THE GUIDELINE AMOUNT OF MAINTENANCE.

If the court finds that the maintenance guideline obligation is unjust or inappropriate, it can adjust the amount based upon:

- a) the age and health of the parties;
- b) the present or future earning capacity of the parties, including a history of limited participation in the workforce;
- c) the need of one party to incur education or training expenses;
- d) the termination of a child support award before the termination of the maintenance award when the calculation of maintenance was based upon child support being awarded which resulted in a maintenance award lower than it would have been had child support not been awarded;

- e) the wasteful dissipation of marital property, including transfers or encumbrances made in contemplation of a matrimonial action without fair consideration;
- f) the existence and duration of a pre-marital joint household or a pre-divorce separate household;
- g) acts by one party against another that have inhibited or continue to inhibit a party's earning capacity or ability to obtain meaningful employment. Such acts include but are not limited to acts of domestic violence as provided in section four hundred fifty-nine-a of the social services law;
- h) the availability and cost of medical insurance for the parties;
- i) the care of children or stepchildren, disabled adult children or stepchildren, elderly parents or in-laws provided during the marriage that inhibits a party's earning capacity;
- j) the tax consequences to each party;
- k) the standard of living of the parties established during the marriage;
- l) the reduced or lost earning capacity of the payee as a result of having forgone or delayed education, training, employment or career opportunities during the marriage;
- m) the equitable distribution of marital property and the income or imputed income on the assets so distributed;
- n) the contributions and services of the payee as a spouse, parent, wage earner and homemaker and to the career or career potential of the other party; and
- o) any other factor which the court shall expressly find to be just and proper.<sup>11</sup>

Income Exceeding the Cap

As mentioned above, the formula cap is currently set at $184,000 of the payor's income. There is no formula to apply to the income that exceeds the cap. Instead, "the amount of additional spousal support awarded, if any, [is] within the discretion of the court which shall take into consideration any one or more of the factors set forth in [FCA §412(6)(a)]."<sup>12</sup> The court must set forth the factors it considered and the reasons for its decision in writing or on the record.<sup>13</sup>

Self-Support Reserve

The Self-Support Reserve also applies to spousal support calculations. Family Court Act Section 412 (5) states that “Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, where the guideline amount of spousal support would reduce the payor's income below the self-support reserve for a single person, the guideline amount of spousal support shall be the difference between the payor's income and the self-support reserve. If the payor's income is below the self-support reserve, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that no spousal support is awarded.”<sup>14</sup>

Needs-Based Orders

Much like in child support cases, Family Court Act Section 412(7) provides a needs-based method for awarding spousal support when the court cannot determine the income of the payor:

When a party has defaulted and/or the court makes a finding at the time of trial that it was presented with insufficient evidence to determine income, the court shall order the spousal support award based upon the needs of the payee or the standard of living of the parties prior to commencement of the spousal support proceeding, whichever is greater. Such order may be retroactively modified upward without a showing of change in circumstances upon a showing of substantial newly discovered evidence.<sup>15</sup>

Duration of Support

Spousal support orders issued by the Family Court do not have an automatic termination date and could remain in place for as long as the parties continue to be married. Support Magistrates have sought to have legislation passed that would empower them to set a duration for spousal support orders, but at this time, they lack jurisdiction to set a durational limit. If a divorce is filed after a spousal support is ordered, the spousal support order will either terminate at a date established in the divorce or be subsumed into post-divorce maintenance as part of the divorce action.

Taxability

Spousal Support or post-divorce maintenance paid by one spouse to the other pursuant to a court order had been tax deductible to the payor and taxable to the payee as income until 2018, but the new federal tax law has removed this deduction. There is pending legislation in New York to change the state tax law to provide for the deductions previously applied to federal taxes to apply to New York State income taxes.

<sup>15</sup> This language is mirrored in Domestic Relations Law Section 236(b)(6)(i) for post-divorce maintenance awards.

PHASES OF A SUPPORT CASE

Drafting the Family Court Child Support Petition

Drafting a child support petition is fairly straightforward, and you can use the sample petition attached to this Training Manual as a guide. A couple of things to note:

Confidential Address

Talk to your client about whether they want their address be kept confidential from the opposing party. If they do, do not include their address on the support petition, simply indicate that the petitioner's address is confidential. The petitioner will need to provide an address to the Clerk of the Court that will be kept on file with the Court. Service of process by the opposing party will be accomplished by the party serving the Clerk of the Court and the court mailing the documents to the client, so the client must keep the Clerk of the Court apprised of any changes in address in order to ensure that the client does not default in subsequent proceedings that are served in this manner.

Paternity

Be sure to set forth in the petition how paternity is established. For example:

- "Petitioner and Respondent were married at the time the child was born."
- "Petitioner and Respondent were never married. An Acknowledgment of Paternity was signed by Petitioner and by Respondent on November 1, 2010, and was filed on November 5, 2010."

Office of Child Support Enforcement

Discuss with your client whether they want to receive payments directly from the respondent, or whether they want to receive payments through the Office of Child Support Enforcement ("OCSE"), which helps custodial parents in New York who are seeking or receiving child support payments.

Receiving payments through OCSE is beneficial for a few reasons. First, your client does not have to interact with their abuser in order to get child support payments. OCSE collects the payments from the non-custodial parent and distributes the payments to the custodial parent. Second, receiving payments through OCSE means that there is a detailed record of support paid, which is very useful if your client later needs to bring a violation petition against Respondent for non-payment. Third, OCSE has the ability to garner Respondent's wages and to seek other forms of relief for non-payment (e.g., suspending or restricting the Respondent's driver's license).

Sanctuary strongly recommends using OCSE. If your client agrees to get payments through OCSE, you need to include that request in your Petition.

Practice Tip: If your client is receiving child support payments through OCSE they should insist that all payments go through OCSE. Any partial or full payments made directly to your client will not be reflected on the OCSE account statements, thus causing confusion should your client ever need to file a violation petition for non-payment of child support.

Practice Tip: Custodial parents must always be on the phone when contacting the New York State Child Support Customer Service Helpline. Attorneys may call and speak to Customer Service but only if your client stays on the phone and gives Customer Service permission to speak to you. The New York State Child Support Customer Service Helpline number is 888-208-4485.

Drafting the Family Court Spousal Support Petition

The Spousal Support Petition is similar to the Child Support Petition. It should establish that the parties are currently married and that the Respondent has failed to provide support to the Petitioner. (See sample Child and Spousal Support Petition, attached as Exhibit A).

Spousal Support Orders can only be collected through OCSE if they accompany a Child Support Order. If there are no children that will be supported by the same Respondent, this option for payment of spousal support collection is not available, so you should speak with your client about how the support will be paid. It could be mailed by check if there is a safe address to which it can be sent. It could be done by direct deposit into the client's bank account by giving the payor the client's bank account number. The client will need to keep track of payments made and should keep records of checks given and documentation of any checks that bounce.

It is not recommended that the client agree to have the support payable directly to third parties such as landlords, utility companies, etc. This can be difficult to track and allows the payor a chance to place the client in danger of losing housing or having utilities shut off. It is usually preferable to get direct payment to the client to avoid perpetuation of the economic abuse.

Filing a Support Petition in Family Court

The attorney should bring multiple copies of the Petition to the Court. Some boroughs require filing of multiple copies. Other boroughs only require one. At the very least you will need a copy for service on the opposing party and a copy for your own file.

The Petition is filed in the Family Court of the county in which the client resides or the county in which the opposing party resides if the client does not want the other party to know where he/she/they are currently residing.

The local offices of the OCSE are called Support Collection Units (“SCU”). If you are filing a Child Support Petition (either in combination with a Spousal Support Petition or on its own) you and your client can bring the Petition(s) to the SCU office at the Family Court to file. There will be documents for your client to fill out to set up an SCU account so that an SCU account number (the “CSMS” number) can be included in the Summons that will be generated to include with your petition.

If you are just filing a Spousal Support Petition without any accompanying Child Support Petition, you should go to the Petition Room in the courthouse, where you can file the Spousal Support Petition. The Court will generate a Summons to be served with the Petition. You should ask the Petitions Clerk when you can pick up the Summons—it won’t be ready right away, and you may have to come back in a day or two to pick it up.

Service of Process

The easiest way to obtain service of process when there is a Child Support Petition is to ask SCU to arrange for service of the Summons and Petition. This can be done while you are filing the Petition at the SCU office in the Family Court. SCU will send the necessary papers to the Sheriff and the Sheriff will effectuate service. Thereafter, the Sheriff will send an Affidavit of Service to the court by the return date.

Alternatively, the Summons and Petition can be taken with you and you can arrange for service of process by the Sheriff, a licensed process server, or any adult age 18 or over who is not a party to the case. You will then be responsible for obtaining a properly filled out, signed and notarized Affidavit of Service to bring back to the court on the return date. Service cannot be effectuated on a Sunday or on Saturday for a Respondent who observes Saturday as a holy day on which he/she/they does not work. If service was attempted, but could not be completed before your next court date, you should get an Affidavit of Attempted Service to bring with you to court.

Service must be completed at least eight (8) calendar days before the return date.

Return Date

The first court date after the Petition is filed is called the “Return of Process” date or “Return Date.” At this court appearance, the parties must appear before the court with completed financial disclosure documents. The documents you will need to prepare with your client in advance of this Return Date are as follows:

1. Financial Disclosure Affidavit (sample attached as Exhibit E; blank form available to download at <https://www.nycourts.gov/forms/familycourt/childsupport.shtml>).
2. Client's paystubs – ideally, the last three the client received
3. Client's last year's tax return with all schedules attached, W-2 forms, 1099s, etc.
4. Prior years' tax returns, especially if they reveal the opposing party's income in a jointly-filed return
5. Documentation of child care or school tuition expenses if these add-ons are being requested. If your client cannot obtain an invoice for her childcare expenses because he/she/they is paying a neighbor or family member to provide child care, you can try submitting a notarized letter from the person providing the child care, but opposing counsel can object to this as hearsay. You should also be prepared with other evidence, such as copies of cancelled checks.

Practice Tip: If your client's address is confidential, take care to redact the addresses from all documents you wish to present in evidence or need to give to the other side.

The Support Magistrate will first determine whether issue is joined. What this means is that they will determine whether service of process has been properly and timely effectuated upon the Respondent. If service was done through the Support Collection Unit ("SCU"), the court should have been sent the Affidavit of Service from the Sheriff. If you arranged for service of process, you will be asked to present your ORIGINAL affidavit of service. The Respondent will be asked whether they were served with the summons and petition.

If service is found to be completed properly, the Support Magistrate will find that issue is joined and the case can move forward.

If the Respondent has come to court without an attorney, the Support Magistrate will ask the Respondent whether they wish to have an adjournment to hire an attorney or speak for themselves. If the Respondent asks for the adjournment, it will be granted and an adjourn date for fact-finding will be selected. The Respondent is not entitled to court-appointed free counsel for a child support matter unless you have filed a violation petition and are seeking incarceration.

You should argue for the court to enter a temporary order of support to go into effect while the case is pending. The court will make an inquiry into the parties' finances and may accept your client's documents (listed above) and any documentation regarding income that the respondent presents before making a determination about a temporary order of child support. The temporary order of child support is frequently low and is without prejudice to the final order of support. It will hopefully get support flowing to your client while they are awaiting the fact-finding, which could be two months or more after the return date.

If you want to make discovery demands to obtain additional financial information from the Respondent, you need to ask for leave of the court to conduct discovery. You should routinely make this application so you do not lose your opportunity to conduct discovery should you decide to do so. As Family Court cases are “special proceedings” pursuant to the Civil Practice Law and Rules Section 408, leave of court is required before you can serve discovery demands upon the opposing party in a special proceeding.<sup>16</sup> Leave to conduct financial discovery is fairly routinely granted in support matters.

Discovery

In a Family Court support action, the discovery instruments typically used are Interrogatories and a Notice of Discovery and Inspection. If the Respondent is pro se, the interrogatories should be easily understandable and should leave room for answers to be written into the document rather than expecting the Respondent to generate a separate typewritten response. Samples of these discovery documents are attached as Exs. J and K.

Discovery requests are typically served by mail at the address given by the Respondent on the record at the return date or on Respondent’s attorney if he/she/they has one. Discovery requests do not need to be filed with the court. Requests should be sent with sufficient time for answers to be received prior to the fact-finding date set by the court, keeping in mind that you must give the opposing party at least twenty-five days to respond to the request if you serve it by mail (twenty days if you personally serve the requests). See CPLR 3120; 2103.

If the opposing party or their counsel sends discovery demands to you, you will need to answer them. Your client will need to gather any documents requested and a written response will have to be drafted.

Motion Practice

On a fairly regular basis, opposing parties do not provide adequate responses to discovery demands. When this happens, you can make a motion by Order to Show Cause asking the court to compel your adversary to respond and/or to preclude your adversary from presenting evidence at fact-finding which would be prejudicial to your case since the discovery requested was not produced. A sample Order to Show Cause <sup>16</sup> If child support is being requested as part of a divorce action in Supreme Court, discovery is automatically permitted and a discovery schedule will be set forth at the Preliminary Conference (first court appearance).

Seeking to Preclude or Compel is attached as Exhibit H. Be sure to attach your discovery requests as exhibits to the Order to Show Cause.

You must bring a copy of the Order to Show Cause to the court to have it signed by the Support Magistrate. After it is signed, you must serve it on the opposing party or counsel using the method designated on the Order by the deadline set in the Order.

Most Orders to Show Cause are returnable on the next adjourn date of the matter, but the court can select a different date for return of the motion.

On the adjourn date of the motion, the court may give your adversary additional time to prepare opposition papers to the motion or to produce the discovery that is outstanding. Motion practice usually results in adjournment of the fact-finding hearing to a later date pending the court's decision on the motion.

If the opposing party has served you with inappropriate discovery demands that request information that is outside the scope of the child support proceeding, you may need to file an Order to Show Cause seeking a protective order against the disclosure of the information sought.

Fact-Finding

The fact-finding hearing may look like a formal trial or may appear somewhat informal depending upon the Support Magistrate hearing the case and the circumstances of each individual case.

If the parties have income that can be verified utilizing the documents presented to the court and neither party is seeking a deviation from the presumptive child support calculation, formal witness testimony may not be necessary.

However, if imputation of income, a needs-based order, or a deviation is being litigated, you should be prepared to present witnesses and evidence in a trial. An opening statement is not usually necessary but if you wish to prepare one, keep it brief. You should prepare a direct examination of your client and any other witnesses, cross-examination of the respondent, and a brief closing statement that clearly sets forth what you would like the court to order. If you are trying to impute income and need to make arguments based on both testimony and financial documents like bank and credit card statements, you may want to request permission to submit a written summation in lieu of an oral summation.

You should have at least three copies of each document you seek to have entered into evidence and they should be organized according to the topics you plan to cover in your witnesses' testimony. One copy will be for the court, one for your adversary, and one for your files. You do not need to pre-mark your exhibits for the court (unless the Support Magistrate has instructed you otherwise).

Practice Tip: If your client's address is confidential, take care to redact the addresses from all documents you wish to present in evidence.

Practice Tip: If the opposing party fails to produce required financial documents, such as a completed Financial Disclosure Affidavit or documentary proof of income and expenses, you should ask the Support Magistrate to take an adverse inference during your closing argument. See, e.g., Jones v. Jones, 239 A.D. 2d 419, 420 (2d Dep't 1997) (error in part because the "Hearing Examiner drew no adverse inference from the fact that the father had failed to produce his most recent tax returns at the hearing, although he had been expressly directed to do so several months before"); Wildenstein v. Wildenstein, 251 A.D.2d 189, 190, 674 N.Y.S.2d 665, 666 (1st Dep't. 1998) ("Defendant's evident lack of candor with respect to the sources and nature of his actual income and perquisites justified an adverse inference against him with respect to his financial condition"); Charpie v. Charpie, 271 A.D.2d 169, 173, 710 N.Y.S.2d 363, 366 (1st Dep't. 2000)) ("Inasmuch as defendant's statement of net worth is incomplete, it is appropriate to apply an adverse inference on the issue of his finances").

Settlement

It is possible that the parties will come to an agreement on an amount of child support before the fact-finding hearing ends. Make sure the agreement considers and addresses both the amount of basic child support and percentages (i.e., the pro rata share) each parent should pay toward any add-ons.

Sometimes, the agreement sets a percentage other than the strict pro rata share or waives add-ons in favor of one set number each month that is factored into the basic child support.

If Respondent owes arrears to your client, they may propose that, as part of the agreement, your client waive the arrears. It is rarely advisable to agree to this.

Decision and Order

If you do not receive a final order of support in court on the day you conclude the fact-finding hearing, you should receive a final order, along with the court's findings of fact, in the mail within approximately 30 days of the conclusion of the fact-finding hearing. Sometimes the Family Court will send the order to the client only and other times to both the attorney of record and the client. You should make sure that you are looking for it and that the client knows that he/she/they should let you know as soon as they receive it so you can review it.

Objections

If you disagree with the order and findings you have only 30 days from the time you receive the order and findings to submit a written Objection to the court. The Objection is a short legal argument about how the Support Magistrate erred in making the final determination of the amount of spousal or child support. It does not require an affidavit from your client and should not introduce any new evidence not previously presented at trial.

If the opposing party files an Objection, you have only 13 days to serve and file a Rebuttal in response to that Objection. The Objection decision will be mailed to you by the court. That decision is then appealable to the Appellate Division.

POST-ORDER ISSUES

Unlike many other types of legal matters, family law cases frequently require a return to court after the case is completed. This is especially true for support cases, since the obligation to pay is long-term and ongoing. One or both parties may have reason to seek a modification in the support order. In addition, if the order is not being paid, an enforcement action may be necessary.

Child Support Modifications

Each party has the right to seek modification of a child support order from Family Court or Supreme Court upon a showing of

- (i) A substantial change in circumstances; or
- (ii) That three years have passed since the order was entered; or
- (iii) There has been a change in either party's gross income by 15 percent or more since the order was entered.<sup>17</sup>

Parties can expressly opt out of the right to seek modification based on (ii) and (iii) in a Stipulation when the initial support order is established. Attorneys should consider when it is beneficial to do so. This is rarely the case.

A Petition for an Upward Modification or a Downward Modification is filed with the Family Court in the same manner as the Petition for the initial support order. See Petition for Upward Modification, attached as Exhibit. I. The burden of proof is on the Petitioner and the same financial disclosure rules apply as in the initial (de novo) determination of support.

It should be noted that while the conditions that permit the filing of a modification petition may exist, they do not guarantee that the court will enter a modified order. The court retains discretion regarding whether a modification is warranted in the interests of justice. If the court grants the modification petition, the amount of child support will be modified as of the date the modification petition was filed.

Spousal Support Modifications

Spousal Support Orders from Family Court do not have a termination date and are usually dissolved when they are superseded by a final order of maintenance or waiver or denial of maintenance in a divorce action. Spousal Support Orders can be modified based on a substantial change of circumstances. As with child support modification petitions, the amount of spousal support will be modified as of the date the modification petition was filed.

Child and Spousal Support Violations

Frequently, abusive former partners fail to pay the support amount that is ordered by the court. In cases in which the support cannot be garnished from their wages because they are self-employed or work “off the books,” a court action to enforce the support order is necessary. A Violation Petition (see sample Violation Petition, attached as Exhibit J) can be filed in Family Court and served by the same methods as the initial Petition to establish the support order. If your client is receiving child support payments through OCSE, have your client call the office and ask what the exact arrears amount is, and also have them request that the office send your client a child support account statement to attach to your Violation Petition. Note that your client must call—the office will not speak to an attorney unless the client is also on the phone and gives the office specific authorization to speak to the attorney. After you file the child support violation petition, the court should have a copy of an up to date OCSE account statement ready for you at every court appearance—review each statement closely with your client and make sure it is accurate.

Violation Petitions in which the Petitioner wishes to have the court consider punishing the Respondent by an order of incarceration are the only support proceeding in which the Respondent is entitled to court-appointed counsel because his/her/their liberty is at stake. If the Respondent does not hire an attorney, the court will appoint one to represent him/her/them in the proceeding.

In a Family Court violation matter, the Petitioner needs to show that there is an order of support of which the Respondent had notice and that the Respondent has failed to pay. The burden of proof then shifts to the Respondent to prove that the failure to pay was not willful. This is called a “willfulness hearing.”

Upon a finding of willfulness by the Support Magistrate, a money judgment for the outstanding support arrears will be entered, which will accrue 9% interest per year until it is paid off. In addition, the Support Magistrate may make a recommendation for punishment of the Respondent for willful violation of the order. The recommendation could include probation or incarceration for a period up to a maximum of six (6) months.<sup>18</sup> If probation or incarceration are recommended, the case will be sent to a judge for a “willfulness confirmation hearing” at which the judge will review the findings of fact of the Support Magistrate, hear oral arguments from both sides about the disposition that should be entered by the court, and pronounce “sentencing” by either confirming, rejecting, or modifying the recommended disposition of the Support Magistrate.

<sup>18</sup> See FCA § 454. If you decide to ask the Support Magistrate to recommend incarceration, you may want to consider asking for weekend incarceration (Friday at 5pm to Sunday at 5pm) so that Respondent is able to earn money during the week to (hopefully), use toward paying off his arrears.

If incarceration is ordered, the Respondent will be afforded time to “purge” the willfulness by paying a “purge amount” set by the court. Petitioner can argue for a purge amount up to the full arrears owed. The court will generally set a purge amount between 30% and 50% of the full arrears owed, depending on how high the arrears are, although it is in the court’s discretion to set the purge amount as low or as high as it feels the Respondent is likely to be capable of paying. If the purge amount is paid by the deadline set by the court, the Respondent avoids incarceration. Otherwise, the Respondent will serve the time to which he/she/they were sentenced until the purge amount is paid or the time to which he/she/they were sentenced ends.

Note that a Respondent in a Violation Petition proceeding will frequently cross-petition for a Downward Modification of the support order, so you will often be litigating both petitions together.

SANCTUARY RESOURCES FOR YOUR CLIENT

During the course of your representation you may find that your client is experiencing challenges that extend beyond the support case that you are working on. Clients may be struggling emotionally from the trauma they suffered. They may have trouble finding a job and may have fallen behind in their rent payments. Sanctuary has many resources to help our clients and you should always feel free to reach out to your Sanctuary co-counsel or to Sanctuary's Pro Bono Director<sup>19</sup> to discuss how your client can benefit from these resources, which include:

Child Support Standards Chart

prepared by
 New York State Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance
 Division of Child Support Services

This Child Support Standards Chart can be used to determine an approximate annual child support obligation. For a detailed, legal explanation of all factors used by the court in calculating a child support obligation, you should consult section 413 of the Family Court Act. Please note that the calculations provided in the stated chart intervals are based upon the lower bound of the interval. For example, when calculating the obligation for the range of income at $25,600 to $25,699, the chart uses the amount of $25,600 to determine the obligation amount. For a precise calculation of the obligation at an income level above the lower bound of the interval, use the percentages listed below to perform the calculation on the worksheet located on page 22.

The 2023 poverty income guidelines amount for a single person as reported by the United States Department of Health and Human Services is $14,580 and the 2023 self-support reserve is $19,683.

Note: Where the total income of both parents exceeds the combined parental income amount of $163,000 the law permits, but does not require, the use of the child support percentages in calculating the child support obligation on the income above $163,000.

Child Support Percentages

* See Family Court Act § 413 (1)(b)(5) for the complete definition of "income" under the Child Support Guidelines. Income includes gross total income as should have been or should be reported in the most recent federal income tax return. Income may also include amounts imputed by the court. To the extent not already included in gross income, add investment income (minus the sums expended in connection with such investment), voluntarily deferred income or compensation and income received from the following sources: workers' compensation, disability benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, social security benefits, veterans benefits, pensions and retirement benefits, fellowships and stipends, and annuity payments. Income deductions include certain self-employment deductions, certain unreimbursed employee business expenses, except to the extent these allowances reduce personal expenditures, certain alimony or maintenance or child support actually paid to a spouse or on behalf of a child not a party to the instant action, public assistance, supplemental security income, New York City or Yonkers income or earnings taxes actually paid, and Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) taxes actually paid.

** The Basic Child Support Obligation is defined by Family Court Act § 413 (1)(b)(1). The noncustodial parent's portion of the Basic Child Support Obligation includes the amount resulting from multiplying the noncustodial parent's income by the appropriate child support percentage, then adding the noncustodial parent's share of cash medical support obligations, educational, and child care expenses where appropriate.

NOTE: Where the combined parental income exceeds $163,000 the law permits, but does not require, the use of the child support percentages in calculating the child support obligation on the income above $163,000.

ADDENDUM A CHILD SUPPORT PERCENTAGES

The child support percentages that shall be applied by the Court unless the Court makes a finding that the non-custodial parent's share is unjust or inappropriate are as follows: 17% for one child; 25% for two children; 29% for three children; 31 % for four children; and no less than 35% for five or more children.

ADDENDUM B COMBINED PARENTAL INCOME "CAP"

Where combined parental income exceeds the amount published by the New York State OTDA pursuant to Social Services Law 111-i(2)a, the Court shall determine the amount of child support for the amount of the combined parental income in excess of such dollar amount through consideration of the factors set forth in Addendum D and/or the support percentage set forth in Addendum A. The combined parental income amount will be revised every two years, beginning on January 31, 2012, and the revised amount will be posted on-line at www.otda.state.ny.us.

ADDENDUM C SELF-SUPPORT RESERVE

Where the annual amount of the basic child support obligation would reduce the non-custodial parent's income below the poverty income guidelines amount for a single person as reported by the federal Department of Health and Human Services, the basic child support obligation shall be twenty-five dollars ($25) per month unless the interests of justice dictate otherwise. Where the annual amount of the basic child support obligation would reduce the non-custodial parent's income below the self-support reserve but not below the poverty income guidelines amount of a single person as reported by the federal Department of Health and Human Services, the basic child support obligation shall be fifty dollars ($50) per month or the difference between the non-custodial parent's income and the self-support reserve, whichever is greater.

ADDENDUM D VARIANCE FROM THE PERCENTAGES

The Court has the discretion to vary from the percentages if it finds that the non-custodial parent's pro-rata share of the basic child support obligation is unjust or inappropriate. This finding shall be based upon consideration of the following factors:

1. The financial resources of the custodial and non-custodial parent, and those of the child.
2. The physical and emotional health of the child and his/her special needs and aptitudes.
3. The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage or household not been dissolved.
4. The tax consequences to the parties.
5. The non-monetary contributions that the parents will make toward the care and well-being of the child.
6. The educational needs of either parent.
7. A determination that the gross income of one parent is substantially less than the other parent's gross income.
8. The needs of the children of the non-custodial parent for whom the non-custodial parent is providing support who are not subject to the instant action and whose support has not been deducted from income, and the financial resources of any person obligated to support such children, provided, however, that this factor may apply only if the resources available to support such children are less than the resources available to support the children who are subject to the instant action.
9. Provided that the child is not on public assistance (i) extraordinary expenses incurred by the non-custodial parent in exercising visitation, or (ii) expenses incurred by the non-custodial parent in extended visitation provided that the custodial parent's expenses are substantially reduced as a result thereof.
10. Any other factors the Court determines are relevant in each case.

NOTE: The language in the above Addenda is paraphrased from the statute for the purposes of simplification. For statutory language, see Family Court Act Sections 413(1), 416 and 424-a and Domestic Relations Law Sections 236-B and 240.

AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT

Respondent.

-----X

I, _____, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. I am the Petitioner in the above-captioned child support action and am personally familiar with all the facts and circumstances herein and make this affidavit in support of the annexed motion for the following relief:

2. I filed a petition for support on _____, 20___. See Exhibit A.

3. On _____, my attorney served a request for interrogatories upon the Respondent. See Exhibit B. Respondent did not respond to the request.

4. On _____, my attorney again served the request for interrogatories upon the Respondent through his attorney. Respondent again failed to respond to the request.

5. On _____, this Court directed the Respondent to respond to the interrogatories by _____. To date, the response to the interrogatories has not been received.

6. Without Respondent's compliance with discovery, the matters of child support, cannot be determined unless this Court precludes Respondent from offering evidence and determines child support according to the needs or lifestyle of the child. I do not have access to the financial documents in the possession of the Respondent, particularly with regard to his current employment. I have physical custody of our child, who is _____ years old. I have no other means of supporting my son without an order of support from Respondent.

7. I request that this Court consider the burdens of prolonged litigation that Respondent is causing as well as my inability to prove the necessary facts to make out my case for child support when Respondent refuses to cooperate with discovery requests. Respondent should not be allowed to benefit from getting all of the information about my finances while keeping information about his finances hidden.

8. Respondent has failed to make child support payments as ordered by the Court. This has resulted in two years of litigation. Plaintiff has been given ample time and notice to produce the discovery required, but has refused to do so.

9. There has been no prior application for the relief requested herein.

WHEREFORE, for the foregoing reason, I respectfully request that the Court grant the relief sought herein, and such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

Docket No.: F-

AFFIRMATION

Respondent.

-----X

_____, ESQ., an attorney duly admitted to practice law before the Courts of the State of New York, and not a party to this action, hereby affirm under penalty or perjury, that the following is true and correct:

10. I am employed at Sanctuary for Families, Inc., Center for Battered Women's Legal Services, attorneys for Petitioner, _____, and as such am fully familiar with the facts and circumstances herein.

11. I submit this affirmation in support of the Petitioner's motion to preclude Respondent from introducing evidence or making arguments regarding financial matters about which he has not provided required discovery. Alternatively the Petitioner requests that the Respondent be compelled to comply with discovery demands.

12. Petitioner initiated this proceeding on _____. See Exhibit A.

13. Petitioner served Respondent's with Interrogatories on _____. See Exhibit B. Petitioner's counsel emailed a copy of Petitioner's interrogatories to Respondent's counsel on _____. See Exhibit C. Respondent did not respond to Petitioner's Interrogatories.

14. If Respondent is unwilling to provide answers to the Interrogatories and all documents requests by Petitioner, Petitioner will be prejudiced at trial by not having the opportunity to examine any evidence to be presented by Respondent in a hearing regarding income. Allowing Respondent to introduce evidence of his lack of financial means to comply with the child support order when that evidence has not been produced to Petitioner's attorney for inspection prior to trial will result in unfair surprise.

15. Petitioner requests that in the interests of justice, this Court preclude Respondent from presenting any evidence not produced to Petitioner's attorney at the trial regarding his income.

ARGUMENT

16. CPLR 3126 provides for penalties for refusal to disclose. It states that "if any party . . . refuses to obey an order for disclosure or willfully fails to disclose information which the court finds ought to have been disclosed pursuant to this article, the court may make such orders with regard to the failure or refusal as are just" including the following:

1. an order that the issues to which the information is relevant shall be deemed resolved for purposes of the action in accordance with the claims of the party obtaining the order;
2. an order prohibiting the disobedient party from supporting or opposing designated claims or defenses, from producing in evidence designated things or items of testimony, or from introducing any evidence of the physical, mental or blood condition sought to be determined, or from using certain witnesses; or
3. an order striking pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party.

17. Respondent has failed to comply fully with Petitioner's discovery requests on numerous occasions throughout these proceedings. Since Respondent is represented by counsel and has had sufficient time, and has been served multiple times with the interrogatories, an inference can be drawn that Respondent's failure to disclose is willful.

18. The discovery demands made upon Respondent requested information that ought to have been produced in an action for child support because they are necessary to determine issues related to Respondent's ability to pay child support. DRL §236(B)(4) states that "noncompliance shall be punishable by any or all of the penalties prescribed in section thirty-one hundred twenty-six of the civil practice law and rules, in examination before or during trial."

19. In Wolfson v. Nassau County Medical Center, the Court found that "the extensive nature of the Plaintiffs' delay in responding to the Defendant's interrogatories permits an inference that the delay was willful." 141 A.D.2d 815, 530 N.Y.S.2d 27 (2d Dep't 1988); see also Glasburgh v. Port Authority, 193 A.D.2d 441, 597 N.Y.S.2d 327 (1st Dep't 1993). The delay in the instant matter has been extensive. There has been more than enough time for Respondent to produce the information requested. Respondent's repeated failure to comply with discovery requests throughout the pendency of this action must be viewed as willful.

20. The nature and degree of penalty to be imposed pursuant to CPLR § 3126 is generally left to the discretion of the Court. See Kinglsey v. Kantor, 265 A.D.2d 529, 697

N.Y.S.2d 141 (2d Dep't 1999); DePierro v. Bank of New York, 308 A.D.2d 430, 764 N.Y.S.2d 208 (2d Dep't 2003).

21. In light of the length of time that this proceeding has been pending and the fact that Respondent has had ___ months to comply with the discovery demand, Petitioner requests that Respondent be precluded from presenting evidence as to his ability to pay child support in the child support hearing before this Court.

22. There has been no prior application for the relief requested herein.

WHEREFORE, for the foregoing reasons, your affirmant respectfully requests that the Court grant the relief sought herein, precluding Respondent from presenting evidence regarding his expenses or ability to pay child support, and ordering such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

(Support-Petition for

10/2012

FAMILY COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF BRONX

In the Matter of a Proceeding for Support
Under Article 4 of the Family Court Act

Docket No.

AB,

Petitioner,

-against-

MODIFICATION OF AN ORDER OF SUPPORT MADE
BY FAMILY COURT

CD,

Respondent.

TO THE FAMILY COURT:

The undersigned Petitioner respectfully shows that:

1. I am the custodial parent of the child and I reside at XX.
2. Respondent, CD, resides at XX.
3. I was the Petitioner in an action instituted in the Family Court of the State of New York, County of New York, by the Commissioner of Social Services of the City of New York. CD was the Respondent in that action.
4. The action was named: XX, Docket No. XX.
5. An Order of Support, dated XX, was entered in the action directing Respondent to, inter alia, pay Petitioner $53 per week as and for child support for the parties' child. The Order of Support is payable through the Support Collection Unit.

A true copy of the Order of Support dated XX is attached and made a part of this Petition.

6. The Order of Support has been adjusted several times to account for Cost of Living Adjustments. The most recent Adjusted Order of Support is dated XX. The Adjusted Order of Support modifies the Order of Support in that it directs Respondent to pay Petitioner $75 per week as and for child support for the parties' child. The Adjusted Order of Support is payable through the Support Collection Unit.

A true copy of the Adjusted Order of Support dated XX is attached and made a part of this Petition.

7. The names, addresses and dates of birth of all children affected by this order are:

CHILD'S NAME	ADDRESS	DATE OF BIRTH
EF	XX	XX

8. Upon information and belief, I have standing to seek a modification of child support because, since the entry of the Order of Support, there has been a substantial change of circumstances in that:

When the original Order of Support was entered, I was receiving public assistance. I am no longer receiving public assistance and the support is now payable to me rather than the Department of Social Services.

More than three years have passed since the entry of the last Adjusted Support Order, which was entered on XX.

The child is older than she was at the time of the entry of the original Order of Support and her needs have significantly increased. The child will be entering college within the next year. Without an increase in support from Respondent, the child's financial needs cannot be met.

Respondent's ability to pay child support has significantly increased since the time that the Order of Support was entered.

9. The Adjusted Order of Support, XX, should be modified as follows:

- a. The payments should be increased to the CSSA amount based upon Respondent's current income.
- b. Respondent should be directed to pay a parental contribution toward the child's college expenses.

10. No previous application has been made to any judge or court, including a Native American tribunal, or is presently pending before any judge or court, for the relief requested in this petition.

WHEREFORE, I respectfully request that the Adjusted Order of Support, dated XX, be modified as set forth above and for such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

NOTE: (1) COURT ORDER OF SUPPORT RESULTING FROM A PROCEEDING COMMENCED BY THIS APPLICATION (PETITION) SHALL BE ADJUSTED BY THE APPLICATION OF A COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT AT THE DIRECTION OF THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT NO EARLIER THAN TWENTY-FOUR MONTHS AFTER SUCH ORDER IS ISSUED, LAST MODIFIED OR LAST ADJUSTED, UPON THE REQUEST OF ANY PARTY TO THE ORDER OR PURSUANT TO PARAGRAPH (2) BELOW. SUCH COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT SHALL BE ON NOTICE TO BOTH PARTIES WHO, IF THEY OBJECT TO THE COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT, SHALL HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE HEARD BY THE COURT AND TO PRESENT EVIDENCE WHICH THE COURT WILL CONSIDER IN ADJUSTING THE CHILD SUPPORT ORDER IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION FOUR HUNDRED THIRTEEN OF THE FAMILY COURT ACT, KNOWN AS THE CHILD SUPPORT STANDARDS ACT.

(2) A PARTY SEEKING SUPPORT FOR ANY CHILD(REN) RECEIVING FAMILY ASSISTANCE SHALL HAVE A CHILD SUPPORT ORDER REVIEWED AND ADJUSTED AT THE DIRECTION OF THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT NO EARLIER THAN TWENTY-FOUR MONTHS AFTER SUCH ORDER IS ISSUED, LAST MODIFIED OR LAST ADJUSTED BY THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT, WITHOUT FURTHER APPLICATION BY ANY PARTY. ALL PARTIES WILL RECEIVE A COPY OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER.

(3) WHERE ANY PARTY FAILS TO PROVIDE, AND UPDATE UPON ANY CHANGE, THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT WITH A CURRENT ADDRESS, AS REQUIRED BY SECTION FOUR HUNDRED FORTY-THREE OF THE FAMILY COURT ACT, TO WHICH AN ADJUSTED ORDER CAN BE SENT, THE SUPPORT OBLIGATION AMOUNT CONTAINED THEREIN SHALL BECOME DUE AND OWING ON THE DATE THE FIRST PAYMENT IS DUE UNDER THE TERMS OF THE ORDER OF SUPPORT WHICH WAS REVIEWED AND ADJUSTED OCCURRING ON OR AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER OR NOT THE PARTY HAS RECEIVED A COPY OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER.

TO THE FAMILY COURT:

The Petitioner respectfully alleges that:

1. a. Petitioner is the mother and custodial parent of the child. Petitioner resides at XXX.
b. Respondent resides at XXX.
2. The name(s) and date(s) of birth of the child(ren) involved are:

CHILD'S NAME	DATE OF BIRTH
XXX	XXX

3. By order of this Court, dated May 23, 2013 (the "Child Support Order"), Respondent was ordered to pay for the support of the above-named child and was directed to pay the sum of $ 150 weekly to Petitioner through the Support Collection Unit.

4. Upon information and belief,

- (a) Respondent has failed to obey the order of this Court in that he has failed to make all payments required under the Child Support Order.
- (b) As a result of Respondent's violation of the Child Support Order, Respondent owes $5,250 according to the Support Collection Unit. Respondent does not make any payments toward the $5,250 arrears that he owes. Petitioner would like the Court to order Respondent to pay the arrears owed.
- (c) Respondent's failure to comply was willful. He has told Petitioner that he does not owe her any money, despite the Child Support Order in effect.

5. [Applicable to individual petitioners; if agency, skip to ¶ 6: check a box only if applicable]:

I am hereby applying for child support services from the Support Collection Unit (the IV-D program pursuant to Title 6-A of the Social Services Law) through the filing of this Petition, unless:

- I have already applied for child support services from the Support Collection Unit (the IV-D program pursuant to Title 6-A of the Social Services Law)
- I do not need to apply now because I have continued to receive child support services after the public assistance or care case, or foster care case, for my family has closed.
- I do not wish to apply for child support services.
- I am not eligible to apply for child support services because I am petitioning for spousal support only.

6. YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED that Petitioner may amend this Petition to include any additional arrears which shall have accrued from the commencement of this proceeding up to the date of the hearing or disposition.

7. No previous application has been made to any judge or court, including a Native American tribunal, or is presently pending before any judge or court, for the relief requested in this Petition.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully requests an order granting Petitioner relief as set forth in Section 454 and 458-a, 458-b of the Family Court Act and Section 5242 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules, together with such other or further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

NOTE:<sup>1</sup> (1) A COURT ORDER OF SUPPORT RESULTING FROM A PROCEEDING COMMENCED BY THIS APPLICATION (PETITION) SHALL BE ADJUSTED BY THE APPLICATION OF A COST OF LIVING ADJUSTMENT AT THE DIRECTION OF THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT NO EARLIER THAN TWENTY-FOUR MONTHS AFTER SUCH ORDER IS ISSUED, LAST MODIFIED OR LAST ADJUSTED, UPON THE REQUEST OF ANY PARTY TO THE ORDER OR PURSUANT TO PARAGRAPH (2) BELOW. ALL PARTIES WILL RECEIVE A COPY OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER.

(3) WHERE ANY PARTY FAILS TO PROVIDE, AND UPDATE UPON ANY CHANGE, THE SUPPORT COLLECTION UNIT WITH A CURRENT ADDRESS TO WHICH AN ADJUSTED ORDER CAN BE SENT AS REQUIRED BY SECTION 443 OF THE FAMILY COURT ACT, THE SUPPORT OBLIGATION AMOUNT CONTAINED THEREIN SHALL BECOME DUE AND OWING ON THE DATE THE FIRST PAYMENT IS DUE UNDER THE TERMS OF THE ORDER OF SUPPORT WHICH WAS REVIEWED AND ADJUSTED OCCURRING ON OR AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER OR NOT THE PARTY HAS RECEIVED A COPY OF THE ADJUSTED ORDER.
